Amble, Northumberland's friendliest port, offers a wide range of amenities including a supermarket, shops, doctors, Primary schools and a High school, health centre, pubs and restaurants including vibrant seafood eateries. There is still a working harbour, a marina and a popular Sunday market. Many of the things to do in Amble are based on the very thing that almost completely surrounds it - water. Watersports, sailing, canoeing, kayaking and fishing are all extremely popular. Amble is home to the UK's only puffin festival, inspired by the colourful 36,000-bird colony nesting on Coquet Island, an RSPB seabird sanctuary a mile off the coast. Warkworth and Alnwick are a short drive away. Amble has a regular bus service to Alnwick, Ashington, Blyth and Newcastle, and it is approximately 4.5 miles to the mainline rail station at Alnmouth.

Entry is via the front door, beneath a useful storm canopy, which opens into an entrance hallway with a radiator, cloaks hanging space and a central ceiling light. The space is finished with sturdy flooring which is ideal at this point of entry. Wall mounted central heating controls are located here which allow the ground floor to be heated independently to upstairs which is a useful and cost-effective feature. Stairs ascend to the first floor and various doors lead off one of which opens to a sizeable storage cupboard. All the main living spaces are neutrally decorated allowing the easy addition of accent colour should you so wish.

The attractive lounge is beautifully light and bright and offers plenty of space to accommodate a variety of comfortable furniture before a slate hearth with an electric feature fire which forms an attractive focal point. A window overlooks the front of the property and allows a wealth of natural light to circulate. A pair of double doors open into the kitchen-diner which is located to the rear of the property.

With French doors which open out to a patio ideal for al fresco dining, the kitchen-diner is a spacious and sociable room appealing to modern living. There is plenty of space to sit and dine in front of the French doors before the room transitions from carpet to grey wood effect vinyl flooring signalling entry to the kitchen which offers a good number of wall and base units with a matt grey door complemented by a contrasting grey laminate work surface. There is an under-bench oven beneath a four-burner gas hob, a stainless-steel splash back, a chimney style extractor fan and a bowl and a half stainless steel sink with a drainer to the side. Furthermore, there is a free-standing dishwasher and a fridge, and a window provides uninterrupted views over the rear garden. Adjacent there is a utility room, with matching base units to those within the kitchen, which offers space and plumbing for a washing machine and a tumble dryer and houses the boiler for ease of access. A composite door opens to the rear and a further door leads to a ground floor WC which comprises a close coupled toilet with a push button flush and a corner hand wash basin with a tiled splash back behind. A window overlooks the rear and additional lighting is by way of a pendant light fitting.

Taking the stairs to the first floor, the spacious landing opens out to four bedrooms, a storage cupboard and the family bathroom. All the bedrooms are tastefully decorated allowing the easy addition of accent colour and are furnished with a sumptuous grey carpet creating comfort as you move throughout. The bathroom is finished with grey vinyl flooring.
